

Environmental Policy

Plumbers Queensland recognises the significance of environmental responsibility as contributing both economically and culturally to good corporate citizenship.

The Managing Directors of Plumbers Queensland are committed to conducting the business activities in an environmentally responsible manner.

The company will plan and manage its activities to minimise disturbance to the environments in which it operates and will maintain environmental standards consistent with relevant regulatory requirements.

Specific environmental endeavours by the Company and its employees include:

- Informing all employees and contractors of their environmental responsibilities through appropriate induction and training;
- Avoiding the pollution of land, water and air by ensuring a responsible personal approach by all employees;
- Monitoring operations to confirm compliance with all applicable environmental standards;
- Take all reasonable and practical measures to prevent or minimise environmental harm;
- Reporting as soon as possible any activities that are causing, have caused, or are threatening to cause environmental harm.

Plumbers Queensland is committed to the process of continual improvement. The environmental policy and objectives are reviewed regularly as part of the management review process and, where necessary, corrective actions are implemented.

Violations of this policy and of environmental laws and or regulations can have a serious, adverse and lasting effect on the environment, the company and our employees. Any violation of this policy by any employee is sufficient grounds for disciplinary action which may include dismissal.
